Library and University Press
Embracing a common future at ULB

Émilie Menz, director of Éditions de l’Université de Bruxelles, emilie.menz@ulb.be Françoise Vandooren, Library Research Support Coordinator, francoise.vandooren@ulb.be
Who is who?
ULB - Key Figures

1834 – Foundation

28,000 Students

5,000 Staff members (researchers and admin)

12 Faculties covering all fields of study
1. A well-established University Press

2. Structure and governance
   Team
   Editorial board
   Board

3. Portfolio
   400 titles
   15 disciplines
   16 series – 3 journals
Collaboration
Before 2018

1. The « Digithèque » - Digital Resources Library since 2007
   * A website with (digitized) out-of-print books – today 216 books available on open access
   * 3 Open Access journals (moving wall 12 months)

2. The ULB repository
Since 2018: Increased collaboration

The Department provides additional support to UP for creating its new website

- IT
- HR
Since 2018: Focus on Open Access

Achievements:

- Flipping a journal to OA
- Raising legal and technical issues (user license, DOI, etc.)
- Drafting an OA policy for the UP
Green Open Access Policy

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Type of publication</th>
<th>Upload the text to the author’s personal website, to the website of his/her research center, to an institutional repository</th>
<th>Upload on for-profit platforms like Academia.edu, Research Gate, Mendeley...</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Version</td>
<td>Conditions</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Article published in a journal</td>
<td>Publisher’s print version (PDF)</td>
<td>License CC BY NC ND © Editions de l’Université de Bruxelles</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chapter published in a book</td>
<td>Publisher’s print version (PDF)</td>
<td>Only for out-of-print books available for free on the UP’s website</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Since 2018 : Focus on Open Access

- Drafting new publishing agreements
- Identifying strategic partners for the dissemination of OA books
- Implementing a new business model for OA books
- Communicating, increasing visibility
First OA Book – October 21st 2019

THE REFUGEE RECEPTION CRISIS IN EUROPE
Polarized opinions and mobilizations

Andrea Rea
Marco Martiniello
Alessandro Mazzola
Bart Meuleman

The refugee question occupies center stage in every political debate in Europe since 2015. Starting from the “largest exodus of migrants” ever, the polarization of opinions and attitudes toward refugees and asylum seekers among all levels of the European Union has given rise to a crisis. The divergence between hospitality and hostility has become evident in political reactions as well.

The focus of this book is on this polarization, on the positive and negative attitudes, representations and practices, as well as on the intra-state, intra-EU and transnational level between competing populists and system actors in the context of the 2015–18 reception crisis.

This book has three objectives. First, it intends to examine public opinion toward refugees and asylum seekers through a European cross-national perspective.

Second, it explores the public opinion polarization by focusing on pro- and anti-refugee sentiments and, more generally, the practices of hospitality and hostility in national communities.

The third objective is to understand whether voters’ and refugees’ own perceptions of receiving countries and their asylum systems can be particularly affected by these orientations. The other national case studies include Germany, Sweden, Hungary, Greece and Italy, and these findings are based on a path-breaking research on the policy systems, public opinions, and geopolitical positions.

This book represents the main output of the research project entitled “Polarization, mobilization, and politics concerning asylum seekers and refugees in anti-immigrant times (Europe and Belgium)”, supported by the Belgian Science Policy Office (BELSPO) 09/09/19-09/20.

www.editions-universite-bruxelles.be

Editions de l’Université de Bruxelles

EUR 23.90

ISBN 978-2-906-1085-0
Projects for the future
Projects

- Provide a platform for disseminating all research outputs published/digitized within the University

- Provide tools and support to editors in the university to turn their journals to e-journals + UP label.

- Work on long-term preservation of UP ebooks

- Publish books to promote and increase visibility of archives and heritage funds.
Benefits of working together
> Sharing knowledge about each other’s job

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>For the Library</th>
<th>For the UP</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Publishing workflow, skills required, business model, cost issues</td>
<td>Library acquisition workflow, impact on UP marketing activities</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Better understand the researchers’ expectations as authors of books, as journal or series editors</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Benefits

> Impact of Open Access

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>For the Library</th>
<th>For the UP</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>challenges of OA for the UP in terms of covering fixed costs, distribution</td>
<td>issues of OA in terms of access to and preservation of scholarly publications and research results</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Measure the impact of OA on use of publications, on visibility of UP, on sales of printed books</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
In the end, we are both more knowledgeable about OA and the issues at stake.

Realise how complementary we are in disseminating research results.
Thank you!