

2013-2014 CALL FOR APPLICATIONS

WHEN - APPLICATION PERIOD: ONCE A YEAR FROM LATE AUGUST TILL THE END OF DECEMBER

All Applications must be completed and submitted electronically before midnight (CET) on

DEADLINE - DECEMBER 20TH 2013

WHAT – INTERNATIONAL & INTERDISCIPLINARY PHD PROGRAMME

The GEM PhD School is an international doctoral programme focused on questions related to “Globalisation, the EU and Multilateralism” covering most disciplines within Social Sciences. It offers an integrated research and training environment set up by 10 leading global universities.

Three specific “Jointly Executed Research Projects” (JERPs) provide the GEM PhD School and its affiliated researchers with a shared backbone:

- AMETRINE – Headed by LUISS-Guido Carli: A research initiative focused on the normative components of European international politics
- CITRINE – Headed by the University of Warwick: Interest centred research. Looking at the interactions between European policy mechanisms and global imperatives
- MORGANITE – Headed by the IEE-ULB: Institution centred research. Focussed on regional and global institutionalized multilateral cooperation

WHERE – DETAILED CALL AND APPLICATION GUIDEBOOKS ARE AVAILABLE ONLINE

All details regarding the research programme, the conditions associated with the fellowships, and the application process can be found under the “Enrol Section” on the Erasmus Mundus GEM PhD School’s website:

WWW.ERASMUSMUNDUS-GEM.EU

FUNDING – AWARDED IN SUPPORT OF ACADEMICALLY SELECTED CANDIDATES

ERASMUS MUNDUS FELLOWSHIPS - Up to 10 fully funded 3-year doctoral fellowships sponsored by the European Commission – open to both EU and non-EU citizens. These generous fellowships covering all participation costs, fees and a monthly salary are directly awarded by the GEM PHD School

OTHER FUNDING - Fee Waivers, Mobility Funds and other forms of Financial support can be directly awarded on a case-by-case principle. Furthermore, the GEM PhD School can invite selected students to apply for a variety of national scholarships

