CLASSIFICATION

DETERMINANTS OF WORK SATISFACTION

▶ Most important

- ▶ Support supervisor
- ▶ Doubts own research
- ▶ Trust in successfully defending PhD
- ▶ Doubts in personal competencies
- ▶ Warmth work environment

▶ Less Important

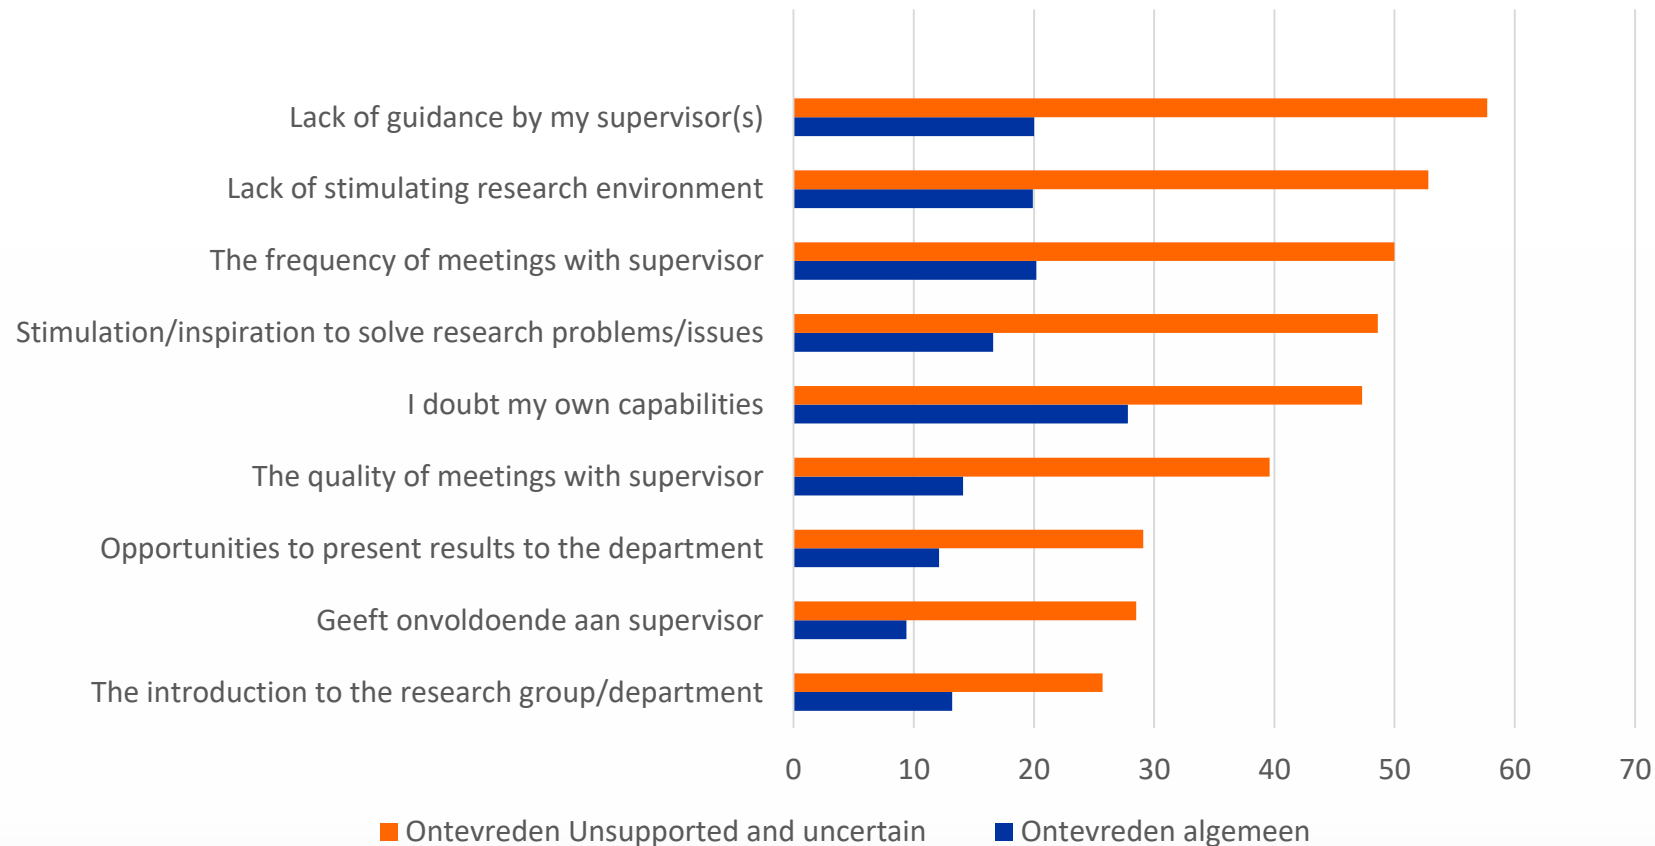

- ▶ Labour conditions (salary, vacation,...)
- ▶ Structural conditions workplace
- ▶ Time pressure

Relation to other variables

- ▶ No relation to: author research proposal, phase of PhD, type of contract, financing body, second job, previous work experience, joint phd, number of supervisors
- ▶ Relation to unsupported and uncertain
 - ▶ More women
 - ▶ More Belgians
 - ▶ More without research plan (or only recently developed)
- ▶ Causality?
 - ▶ Less in line with original research proposal
 - ▶ Less expectations of academic career
 - ▶ Less passionate
 - ▶ Higher intention to quit
- ▶ More time investment not necessarily negative! Lyrical cluster works most irregularly

UNSUPPORTED AND UNCERTAIN VS GENERAL DISSATISFACTION

1. Personal characteristics

Affiliation with VUB

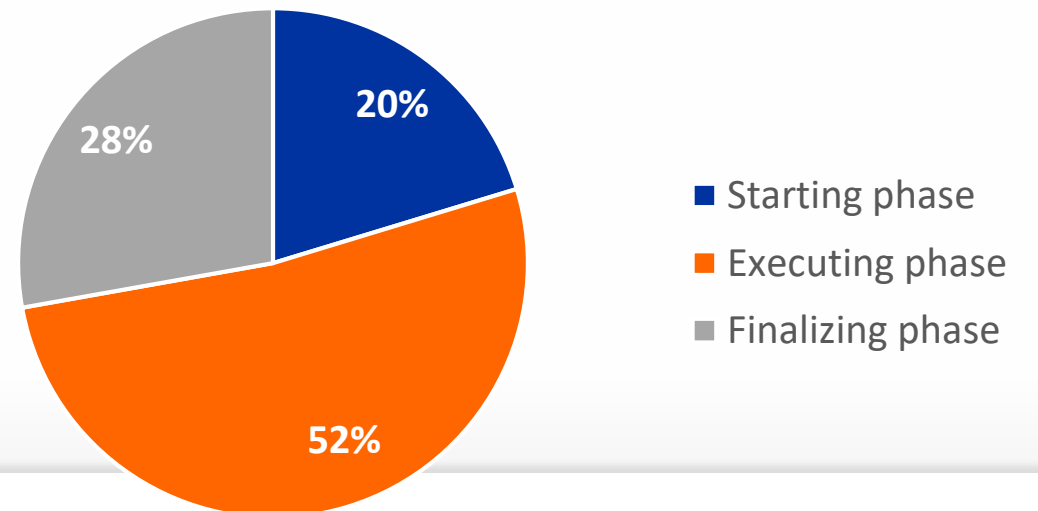

- ▶ Joint PhDs
- ▶ Type of employment/contract

PhD phase

- ▶ Starting / Executing / Finalizing

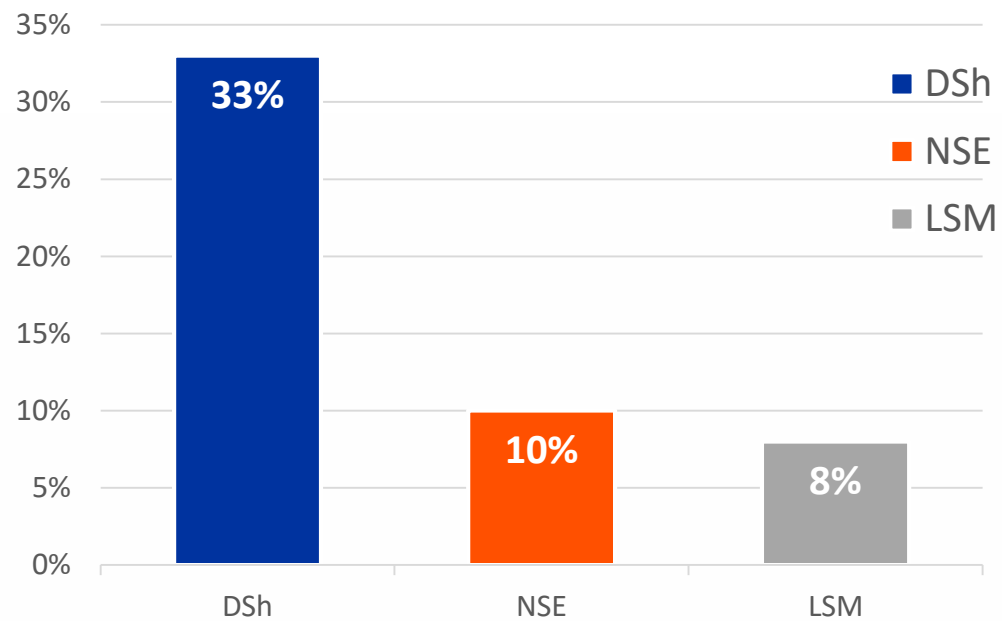

Skills and motivation

- ▶ Passion for own research
- ▶ Self-efficacy

Type of employment/contract: No contract / other

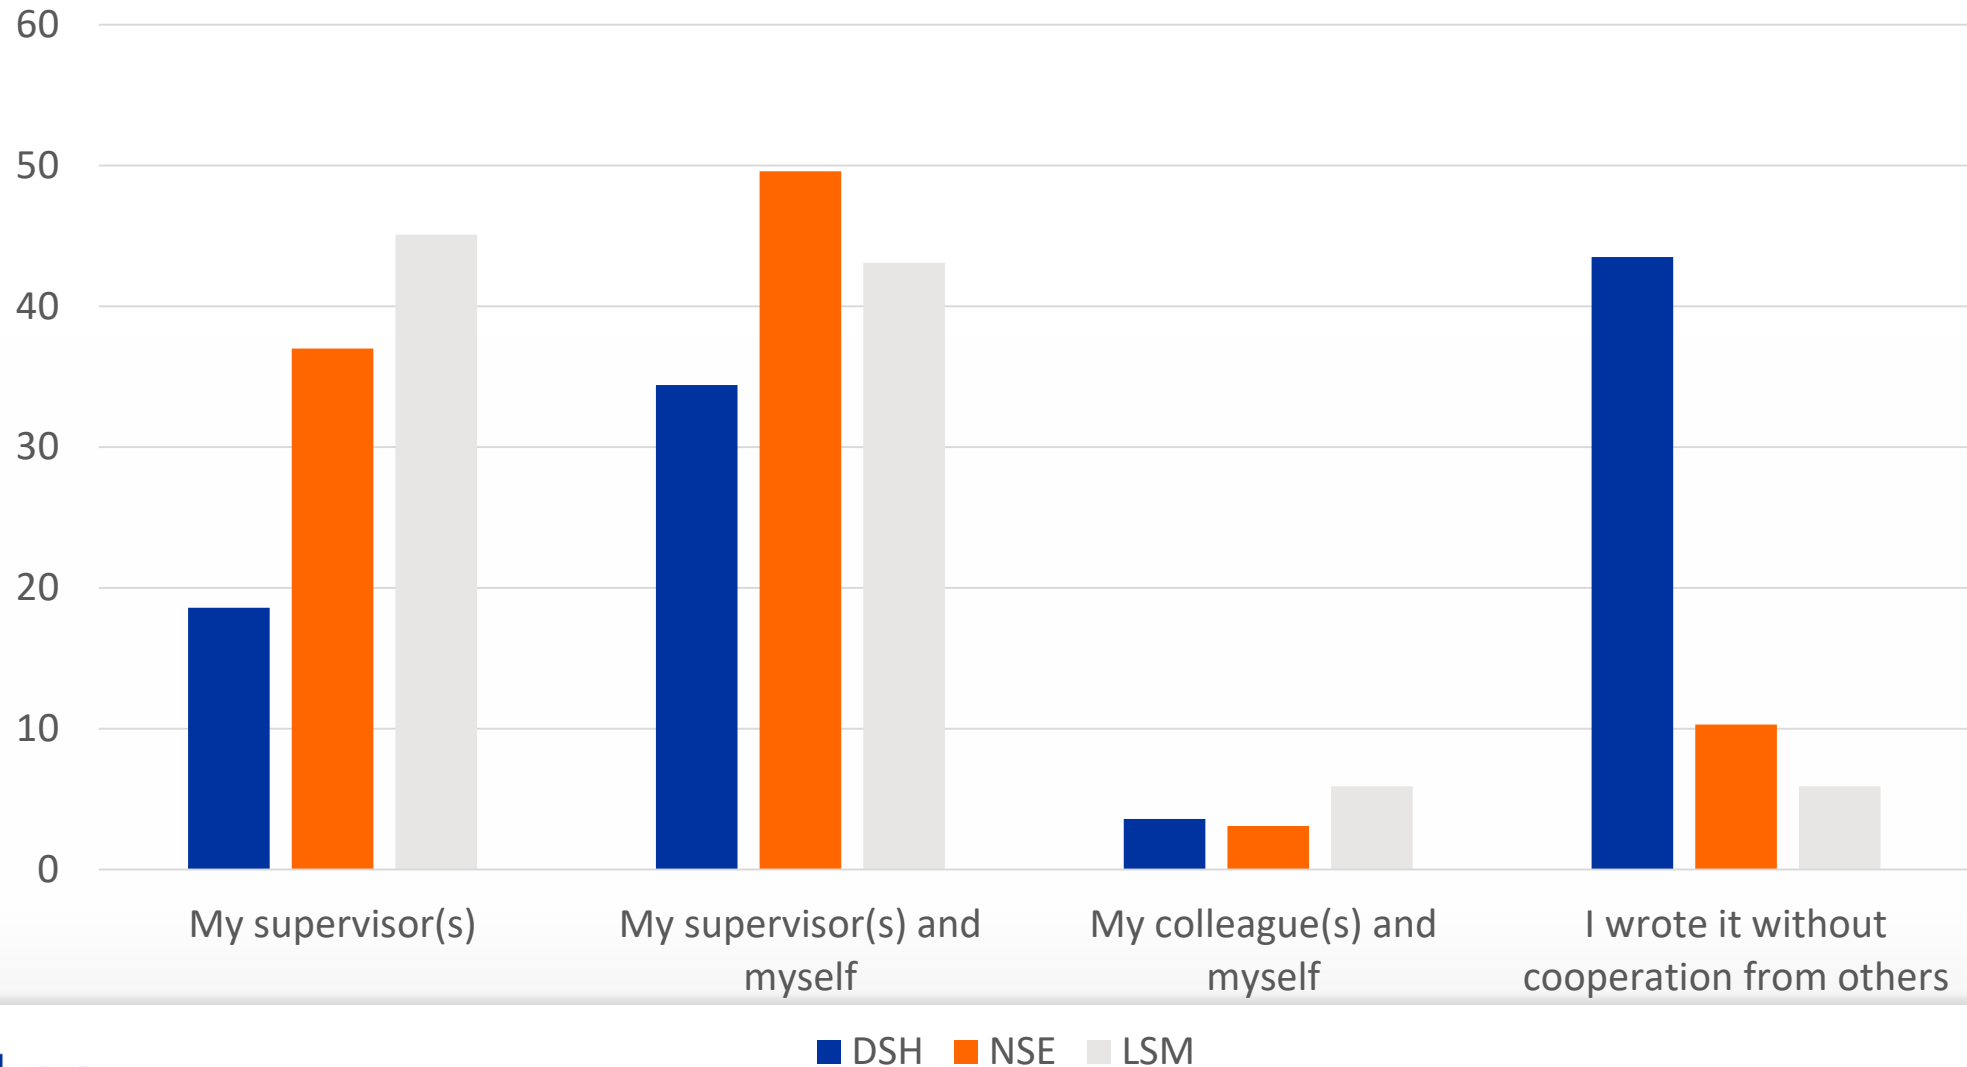

Prob[No contract or other | DS]

2. Entering the PhD process

- Employment prior to enrolment
- PhD project development
 - Freedom to develop own PhD proposal
 - Authors of the PhD proposal

Authors in writing PhD proposal (%)

3. The PhD project

- Research plan
 - Existence / definition / follow-up?
- Timing of the PhD project
 - Being on the right track
 - Doubts to finalize the PhD
- Workload / working hours
- Research Output
- PhD progression and finalization

Research plan

81% have research plan / followed by 78% of the PhD

- Following the research plan
- Not following the research plan
- Undecided

- Short term milestones
- Long term milestones
- Short+longterm milestones
- No research plan

Being on the right track

70% of the PhD feel they are on track

Doubts to finalize the PhD

Main reason for doubts (>20%)

Failed experiments /
Lack of Results

27,9%

Unbalanced
work / family

25,5%

Own capabilities

27,7%

Lack of stimulating
research
