

Blended Learning Days 2022 Rome, April 7th, 2022 Time: 10.00-13.00 (GMT +2)

The seminar will discuss the best practices in blended learning and present some tools and applications for teaching effectively online. The event will also point out some preliminary findings on the impact of the virtual mobility policy adopted by Higher Education Institutions and the inclusivity issues. At the end of the event, the best practice of blended courses offered by Tor Vergata in the last semester will be awarded by an international Jury.

The intended target audience and students, faculty, and staff involved in blended learning and virtual mobility policy. The event is free of charge, and all participants will receive the materials and the presentations done during the event. The event will be organized in a blended model, and participants may select to attend in the presence or remote (TEAMS).

10.00-10.15	Welcome address Gianluca Mattarocci – University of Rome Tor Vergata
10.15-11.30	Session 1 - Teaching in a blended scenario: a review of best practices Online teaching – experiences, challenges and good practices. Preliminary results of InCompEdu survey Riitta Pöntynen – University of Turku (Finland) Online teaching methodologies during the pandemic: the experience of the European University of Cyprus Loukia Evripidou – European University of Cyprus (Cyprus) IT support in online teaching in higher education: results of InCompEdu project Olga Dębicka – University of Gdańsk (Poland)
11.30-12.20	Session 2 - Blended learning innovation and virtual mobility Digital University staff competencies and virtual mobility policies: results for the EDUSC project Stefan Janke – Confia International (France) COVID pandemic accelerated blended learning: the case of the University of Minho José Alberto Lencastre - University of Minho (Portugal)
12.20-12.50	BLA Award ceremony
12.50-13.00	Closing remarks Alma Orazi – University of Rome Tor Vergata

Conference venue:
Università degli Studi di Roma Tor Vergata
School of Economics
Via Columbia 2 – 00133 Rome

Registration form

<https://forms.gle/5GG6z6vnoYZ8n2Fi6>

